The U.S. Department of Education has determined that you have an unusual enrollment history which indicates that you received Federal Pell Grant funds at one or more institutions during the past four award years (2013-2014; 2014-2015; 2015-2016; 2016-2017). Upon review of the academic transcripts submitted, it was determined that you did not earn full academic credit at one or more of the previously attended institutions. This has resulted in a denial of any additional Federal Title IV funds.

In order to appeal this decision, you must provide a written statement which explains your failure to earn full academic credit. Refer only to situations that occurred during those academic terms in which you failed to earn full credit. Within your statement, include the name of the school and academic period in question. Include third party documentation which would support your statement. Typed explanations and supporting documentation must be attached and submitted with this form.

If the appeal for unusual enrollment history is approved and for any reason you fail to meet the satisfactory academic progress (SAP) standards, you will continue to be ineligible for aid, unless a SAP Appeal is approved. To view SAP requirements and the appeal process visit.
